ABOUT THIS EXAM

The American Board for Certification of Teacher Excellence believes that highly skilled world history teachers should possess a comprehensive body of knowledge that is research-based and promotes student achievement. The world history exam is a rigorous assessment of a candidate's knowledge of the history of the world from ancient civilizations to the twentieth century. The exam assesses a candidate's ability to make global connections across time periods and regions of the world.

Study Tip: Use a World History survey text

Bentley and Ziegler's Traditions and Encounters: A Global Perspective on the Past is recommended as your survey text. If you have another survey book from college, or you have access to a different text from your library, that is perfectly fine. It is important that you have access to a survey book because it will assist in covering the various domains of the exam.

ABCTE's Standards Stepwise Method

The right way to get started: using the Standards as your syllabus

Your Self Assessment is a summary of the standards; by doing it, you have identified which ones need the most attention. The Standards are your study lifeline; you can find them on your MyAccount page. Throughout the course of your study you will learn all of them. How to begin? Here is ABCTE's Standards Stepwise method:

1 Approach in bite-sized chunks: don't be overwhelmed or paralyzed by how many standards there are, simply pick a topic of a domain and get started.

2 Define the terms: take the first three items in the topic and make sure you know all the terms. Look up any you do not recognize. After all, you cannot answer a question definitively if you don't even know the terms.

Domain 1: Instructional Design

Topic 1: Selects, Organizes, Plans, and Designs Content

1.1.01	Writes measurable objectives for both individual or classroom performance based on student data and subject matter.
	Guides curricular planning (e.g., content clusters, instructional methods, learning activities and assessment)
1.1.04	Substantiates or illustrates ideas.
1.1.05	Juxtaposes examples that differ in many ways but are the same in defining features, so that students can generalize to new examples and learn to discriminate same/different when faced with new examples.
1.1.06	Plans lessons, depending on size and content of unit, so that important ideas or skills are studied on several occasions rather than all at once.
1.1.07	Selects lessons.

Guides curricular planning (e.g., content clusters, instructional methods, learning activities and assessment tools) based on goals of the instruction.

3 Use the required resources in your Study Plan or a broad survey text to refresh your memory on the topic.

4 Use the appropriate recommended resources to probe deeper if you need better understanding. Use the Standards to target the sections you need to read.

5 Your Notes: go to the resources section of ABCTE.org and identify additional resources to use as needed. Use the Forums to see what other people are using.

6 Check for understanding and reflect: think about how you would use this in a classroom or how you would teach the subject. Use your quizzes to check for understanding and move on.

7 Wash, rinse, and repeat: once you finish a chunk of three, go back and attack the next three.

Have a Plan

It is important to have a plan of attack to study. Block out set times to study and if you slip and miss a session, restart your plan instead of letting yourself get paralyzed and procrastinate.
